STUDY
AMERICAN LAW & LANGUAGE IN
THE UNITED STATES
THIS SUMMER

The American Law and Language Program (ALLP) is designed to provide individuals who have studied, or are currently studying, law outside of the U.S. with a broad exposure to major concepts in U.S. law and American legal training. The ALLP is a wonderful resource for incoming LL.M. students to gain hands-on preparation for their master's studies, as well as practicing attorneys, judges, business law professionals, and those preparing to join any LL.M. program in a U.S. law school.

FORMAT & CURRICULUM

The American Law and Language Program is a full-time, three-week intensive program. Through approximately 70 hours of instruction, participants are enriched academically and culturally through four intertwined modules:

1. A survey of legal English
2. An introduction to U.S. law and the legal system
3. General lectures on core legal topics
4. Legal research and writing workshops

JULY 25 – AUG. 11, 2017
